Q How do you involve your clients in the design process?

A The most important aspect of my design is to capture my clients' distinct personality, allure and being. I honor their aesthetics, and encourage them to be as involved in the design of their home as they want to be. A home is the only place in the world that's truly yours. I pay close attention to who you are, and translate that into the design of your home. Each home we work on is as unique and individualized as each of our clients.

Q How does your 3D design department work?

A Enabling our clients to see exactly what they are getting before making any decisions is such a comfort to them. We Render to Reality our designs, with the most up-to-date technology, allowing our client to see the complete interior design, before a contractor enters the home. All 3D renderings are done in-house, working directly with clients to achieve exactly what they are looking for. When you entrust your home with Nikki Levy Interiors, you're going to be able to take your dreams for your space and see them transform from ideas, to 3D renderings, to reality. We nurture our homes from the very early concept stage, all the way through to completion. Nikki Levy Interiors is one of the only design firms in South Florida to weave magnificent detail and gorgeous design into a 3D image, and are able to bring that image to life.
